Designing the customer and user experience is essential to creating great products today. Gone is the old paradigm of " form follows function " model of design. The process must be iterative and follow the best product design and development processes. While designing a great user experience can be a lengthy and expensive process, there are approaches to doing it faster and smarter, without compromising results.

The curse of being a user experience designer is that you see the good and bad in every interaction you have. It can be annoying at times, but it does mean every interaction is an opportunity to learn. My recent purchase of an iPhone X is a good example. Do all you can to make the user experience as frictionless as possible.
