Roman general, statesman and architect Agrippa (c. 64 – 12 BC) researched the known geography of the Empire and beyond in order to create the Orbis Terrarum or “map of the world”. Also known as the Map of Agrippa, it was placed on a monument called the Porticus Vipsania and was on public display in Rome on the Via Lata .

Small Worlds by Karen Romano Young | Scholastic

Karen Romano Young is the author of young adult novels as well as nonfiction books and magazine articles. Although Small Worlds: Maps and Mapmaking is her first book for Scholastic, she has contributed to Scholastic magazines for the past twenty years.

Erst sind es Kleinigkeiten: Konrad Lang, Mitte Sechzig, stellt aus Versehen seine Brieftasche in den Kühlschrank. Bald vergißt er den Namen der Frau, die er heiraten will. Je mehr Neugedächtnis ihm die Krankheit - Alzheimer - raubt, desto stärker kommen früheste Erinnerungen auf. Und das beunruhigt eine millionschwere alte Dame, mit der Konrad seit seiner Kindheit auf die ungewöhnlichste Art verbunden ist.

Small world est tout à la fois un roman social, l'étude d'un cas médical et un roman policier. Conrad Lang, la soixantaine avancée, est soudain confronté aux images de sa jeunesse. Enfant illégitime d'une servante et compagnon d'un fils de milliardaire dont il partage l'existence, l'unique chose qu'il désire est d'être enfin intégré à cette famille. Il se sert de la formule " Small world "pour camoufler des pertes de mémoire qui lui permettent, par une série de flash-backs de reconstituer son destin. Peinture de la grande bourgeoisie suisse et du petit peuple, ce récit porte sur la mémoire et sur le sens de la vie. La double trouvaille de ce roman consiste à décrire à la fois la perte de mémoire et les efforts pour la reconstituer.

Most studies of Roman local administration focus on the formal structures of power: imperial laws, urban institutions and magistracies. This book explores the interplay of formal power with informal factors such as social prejudice, parochialism and personal rivalries in the cities of northwestern Asia Minor from the first to the fifth centuries AD. Through a detailed analysis of the municipal speeches and career of the philosopher-politician Dion Chrysostomos, we gain new in-depth insight into the petty conflicts and lofty ambitions of an ancient provincial small-town politician and those around him. The author concludes that Roman local politics were rarely concerned with political issues but more often with social status and the desire for recognition within an agonistic society.

At first, they put Konrad's absentmindedness down to an immoderate fondness for alcohol. For years he had been a benign parasite on the Koch family, first as the childhood playmate of Thomas, heir to the Koch family fortune, later as caretaker of the Koch family holiday villa on Corfu. And they, in their turn, had used him as the mood took them. But when the villa burns down because of Konrad's forgetfulness, Elvira Senn, the matriarch of the Koch family, puts him on a strict regime. No longer allowed his daily tippie, Konrad recovers and even falls in love again. But then his condition deteriorates. He can't find his way out of the supermarket, let alone his way home. Soon Konrad doesn't even recognise his new lover. Alzheimer's has taken hold. As Konrad loses his present he regains his distant past, and this is what Elvira fears the most. As they watch and wait for him to rewind to the crucial moment, his life is in danger from far more than the debilitating disease... A gripping psychological thriller, Small World depicts a man with a void in his soul whose only salvation lies buried deep within himself.

Philip Swallow, Morris Zapp, Persse McGarrigle and the lovely Angelica are the jet-propelled academics who are on the move, in the air and on the make in David Lodge's satirical Small World. It is a world of glamorous travel and high excitement, where stuffy lecture rooms are swapped for lush corners of the globe, and romance is in the air...

Small World, Big Market: Global Business provides geographical and historical context to international business at a macro scale. Seamus Deane is one of the most vital and versatile authors of our time. His new book presents an unmatched survey of Irish writing, and of writing about Irish issues, from 1798 to the present day. Elegant, polemical and trenchant, it addresses the political, aesthetic and cultural dimensions of several notable literary and historical moments, and monuments, from the island's past and present. The style of Swift; the continuing influence of Edmund Burke's political thought in the USA; the echoing debates about national character; aspects of Joyce's and of Elizabeth Bowen's relation to modernism; memories of Seamus Heaney; analysis of the representation of Northern Ireland in Anna Burns's fiction – these topics constitute only a partial list of the themes addressed by a volume that should be mandatory reading for all those who care about Ireland and its history. The writings included here, from one of Irish literature's most renowned critics, have individually had a piercing impact, but they are now collectively amplified by being gathered together here for the first time between one set of covers. Small World: Ireland, 1798–2018 is an indispensable collection from one of the most important voices in Irish literature and culture.
